

July 1, 1942.

Mr. William M. Savitt,
35 Asylum Street,
Hartford, Conn.

Dear Mr. Savitt:

I am writing first of all to apologize for changing the date the Eagles were originally booked in Hartford. I would not have done it if you could not have secured another attraction just as good. We had an opportunity to go on a trip with The Grays where we could make a little money, and you know we don't like to pass those opportunities up.

I asked Mr. Leuschner to try and arrange a date for the next week for us, it seems our available dates and the Parks do not correspond. I am sending you now dates when we could arrange to come to Hartford, July 13th, 14th and 15th, August 7th, 24th, 25th, 26th, 28th and 29th, out of all these dates we should be able to get one.

I do hope our changing of dates did not cause you any inconvenience, I am sure you understand.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ